TWO QUESTIONED IN MERCANTILE ROBBERY, FREED; THIRD IS SOUGHT

Woman Teller, Victim in $15,226 Holdup Views Suspects, Says Neither Was One of Robbers.

Two men were released by police and a third man was sought for questioning today in an investigation of the $15,226 robbery of a Mercantile Trust Co. teller yesterday.

The robbery was executed by two men who did not speak to each other and who left the bank by different routes.

Police showed photographs of possible suspects to the teller, Miss Ruby Nafie. She said men in three of the photographs resembled the robbers, and arrest orders were issued for the men.

Two of the three were picked up. Upon viewing them, however, Miss Nafie said neither was one of the robbers.

The holdup occurred before the noon-hour business rush, and the bank was not particularly crowded at the time.

Accounts Checked.

First reports on the loss indicated it was only a few hundred dollars. Bank auditors immediately checked Miss Nafie's accounts and determined the amount stolen about 90 minutes after the robbery.

The men, Negroes, about 35 years old, approached window No. 62 in the southeast section of the main building at Eighth and Locust streets.

One of the men handed a brown paper bag to Miss Nafie. Since it contained some change, she up-ended it on her counter and a note fell out. It read: "Give me the money in the right drawer."

The letters making up the message had been cut from a newspaper or magazine and pasted on the note paper.

She Tells of Threat.

Miss Nafie said the man threatened to use a gun but did not display a weapon. She filled the bag with bills and the men walked away in the crowds thronging the main floor. One went out the St. Charles street exit and the other out the Eighth street exit, it was reported.

The men were wearing overalls, but Miss Nafie was too shaken at the time to give a detailed description.

Miss Nafie, a teller in the checking account division, lives at 4939 Potomac street.

Police received an anonymous telephone call after the robbery to the effect the robbers might be riding in an automobile bearing a specified license. Although police regarded it as a probable hoax, they checked the number and questioned the owner, who told them he had been shopping near Jefferson avenue and Market street at the time. His age was different from that of the robbers and police said he appeared to be telling the truth.

Others Being Checked.

Other license numbers given by persons who thought they had seen the robbers also were being checked.

Miss Nafie went to police headquarters yesterday afternoon to look at pictures on file there in an effort to identify the robbers.

A similar robbery was committed at Mercantile Trust Co.

BRITISH MAGAZINE PUTS THE NEEDLE TO U.S. TAILORS

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Britain's authority on men's fashions told American tailors today to swallow their national pride and let President-elect John F. Kennedy wear his British suits.

Saying that the world recognizes British men's clothes as the best anywhere, the magazine Tailor and Cutter said in its lead editorial:

"In America's highly materialistic society, the applicable cachet for almost every existing form of consumer goods is whether or not it can be branded with the magic word 'imported.'

"Are the members of the United States prepared to deny to their world representative (the President) the rights of that prosperous living which has become the symbol of their economy?

"Far better for the United States tailors to swallow their chauvinism and keep quiet about a situation which—underlined too persistently by the newspapers of both countries — is likely to present the United States suit as a kind of brand X."

Brand X is adman's talk for an inferior product.

FAA WARNS PILOTS OF RED BUZZING ON HOP TO JAPAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The State Department says an American civilian plane strayed over Russian territory on a flight to Japan last July. Soviet planes chased the DC-3 but couldn't catch it in the bad weather.

The American plane finally eluded the Russians and flew to Japan, the State Department said yesterday.

In view of the DC-3's experience, the Federal Aviation Agency has warned American flyers not to stay close to Soviet territory when taking the northern great circle route to Japan.

The DC-3 incident took place over the Kurile islands north of Japan. They are occupied by the Russians.

Radio Station Skunked.

WEST PLAINS, Mo., Dec. 3 (AP)—A skunk wandered into radio station KWPM last night, forcing a 15 minutes suspension of broadcasting. The animal entered an unsealed air duct beneath the building, short circuited a power line and was electrocuted.

Ex-Premier Moved Out of Leopoldville—Put Under Commando Guard.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, Dec. 3 (AP) — Ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba, facing trial for inciting rebellion in the army and other crimes, was moved out of Leopoldville last night and put under the guard of army chief Joseph Mobutu's most trusted commando troops.

Lumumba was driven to Thysville, 100 miles west of the capital, under a strong escort of soldiers with heavy, jeep-mounted machine guns. The convoy left the improvised jail at the army's Binza camp near Leopoldville just before midnight.

Lumumba, who more than once has evaded arrest or escaped from the hands of political captors, was flown here yesterday after being captured at Port Francqui, in remote Kasai province. His capture interrupted a flight by automobile to Stanleyville where he apparently intended to make a new bid for power.

He arrived here disheveled and manacled and was jeered by onlookers and cuffed by Congolese soldiers.

Taken to Thysville with him were three men traveling with him. They also were arrested at Port Francqui.

Mobutu placed his prize prisoners in personal charge of Col. Louis Boboso, commander of the Thysville garrison, who at one time was widely mentioned as a possible successor to head The Congo's military regime.

Trial in Due Course.

Mobutu told reporters Lumumba would be tried in due course for inciting rebellion in the army and other common law crimes.

The strongman was the luncheon guest of Gen. Carl von Horn, Swedish supreme commander of the United Nations force in The Congo. Von Horn plays little part in the U.N. mission's major policy decisions. An aid to Von Horn said Mobutu had come "mainly to relax."

The Soviet delegation at the United Nations in New York demanded that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold make an immediate report on steps being taken by the U.N. command to insure Lumumba's safety.

A Russian statement declared the arrest of Lumumba, who readily accepted Soviet military aid outside U.N. channels when HOCKER URGES DISSOLUTION OF FUND-RAISING UNIT OF G.O.P.

Defeated Candidate for Senate Says Republicans Unlimited Failed to Aid in State-Wide Races.

Lon Hocker of St. Louis, unsuccessful Republican candidate for United States Senator in the November general election, today called for dissolution of the party's new fund-raising organization, Missouri Republicans Unlimited.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Missouri State Republican Committee at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel. Hocker criticized the fund raising group for its failure to aid Republican candidates for state-wide offices.

"If potential candidates conclude on the basis of past performance that they will be given only token support or maybe none at all, what kind of a ticket can we expect then?" Hocker asked.

No Funds Given to Some.

Hocker said that in the 1960 campaign Missouri Republicans Unlimited gave no money to the candidates for Missouri Attorney General or Secretary of State. "Less than $100 per county was provided for the whole state ticket," he added.

Under the present fund-raising system, he told the state committee, "we permit the party to be represented in financial matters by people who deny support to some of the party's candidates for state-wide offices.

"We even have had directors of our fund-raising committee who, while so acting, support the election of a Democratic candidate for mayor in Missouri's largest city. Publicly supporting an opposition candidate is incompatible with the concurrent retention of a party position."

Hocker cautioned against "dividing ourselves into warring camps." He said "the error is in the system and not in the people" who administered the fund-raising program.

Suggests Fund Changes.

He suggested that the responsibility for raising funds and distributing them be returned to the county, state senatorial, congressional and state committees of the party.

"If this arrangement were the one actually followed, the state committee would devote itself to the election of state candidates, and I have no doubt that under such an arrangement the state candidates would not find themselves in the distressing position they have been in the last three elections, to my knowledge, of being obligated to try to finance their own campaigns."

Hocker noted that a return to the old procedure would require separate solicitations of funds by each committee in the party network.

"In practice, I think it will prove out that separate solicitations will produce larger aggregate contributions than a United Fund approach," he remarked.

In his prepared speech, Hocker did not criticize any Republican leaders by name nor did he call for the resignation of the party's leaders, as did Edward G. Farmer Jr., the defeated G.O.P. candidate for governor. Farmer made his statement last Wednesday.

Blamed for Defeat.

Farmer blamed Republican National Committeeman Frank C. Corley of St. Louis and State Republican Chairman H. Kenneth Wangelin of Poplar Bluff for the overwhelming defeat of the party's state ticket in the Nov. 8 general election.

Hocker told the state committee members that the party's major goal is capturing the governorship. He said the key offices in St. Louis and Kansas City "are for the time being an impossibility."

He called on the state committee to begin work now for 1964. He said the state committee should "recapture its own prerogatives and assume its own responsibility, raise and disburse its own funds and set it own goals, immediate and ultimate."

Eisenhower to Accept White Tigress for Children of U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A 200-pound white tigress will meet President Eisenhower on the White House lawn Monday morning. The beast, the first of its kind to venture into the Western Hemisphere, is a gift to the children of America.

After its acceptance by the President, the tigress, named "The Enchantress" will be housed in the National Zoo here. The rare, blue-eyed, white cat will be enclosed in a steel cage with a glass cover for its presentation to the President.

It was raised in captivity by the Maharaja of Rewa, about 250 miles south of Nepal in India. It is being presented to the zoo by John W. Kluge, president and chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Broadcasting Corp.

India's tigers ordinarily are tawny, with black stripes. This one is white, with lighter than usual stripes.

RUSSIANS FAIL TO BRING BACK DOG SATELLITE, CRAFT BURNS UP

Space Ship Shoots Off Course — Soviets Earlier Had Hailed Shot as Prelude to Manned Flight.

MOSCOW, Dec. 3 (AP)—Russia's race toward putting a man in space met a setback yesterday when Soviet scientists failed to bring back to earth a five-ton, dog-carrying satellite.

The Russians claimed their latest space ship "yielded new data for manned space flight in the near future" before it shot off course and burned up in the earth's atmosphere.

Before the Russians announced their failure—the first time they have done so—they said the launching was one of the last before a man might be rocketed into space and brought back alive.

What went wrong was not announced, but Moscow radio said Soviet scientists signalled the satellite to return to earth on a pre-calculated orbit and that it veered off course and disintegrated.

Praise From Khrushchev.

The Russians launched the satellite Thursday amid jubilant praise from Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The satellite carried two dogs, Pchelka (Little Bee) and Mushka (Little Fly), plus insects and plants.

In announcing the failure, Moscow radio did not mention the dogs but it said earlier they survived the shot into space and quickly became organically normal.

Air conditioning, heat regulation and communications aboard the ship functioned reliably, the broadcast said. These would be prerequisites of manned space flight.

Soviet scientists say they launched a space ship containing two dogs Aug. 19 and got them safely back to earth. Russia first put a dog in space in November 1957 in a ship not designed to return to earth and the dog, Laika, died.

Scientists Optimistic.

When the latest satellite went into orbit, Khrushchev said it represented "a great victory and a step to man's flight into space." Soviet scientists were equally optimistic.

E. K. Fedorov, Soviet Academy of Science vice president, said the project's purpose was "to gather information about the response of living organisms to space travel and thus pave the way for putting a man in space."

Yesterday, the Russians said the third dog-carrying satellite yielded the new data expected of it and the return signal was given but:

"Since the space ship descended along a noncalculated trajectory, it burned out on entering the dense layers of atmosphere. The last stage of the carrier rocket continues its movement along the previous orbit."

FIREMEN MAKE DRY RUN, ARRIVE WITH EMPTY TANK

Merril Jackson's flatbed truck caught fire last night in front of his home at 9929 Meeks avenue, St. Louis county. He called the Elmwood Volunteer Fire Department.

The wail of a siren heralded the coming of the eager volunteers and brakes shrieked as their pumper came to an abrupt stop alongside the truck. The firefighters leaped to the ground and began coupling hoses.

A fireman pointed the hose at the blazing truck. Nothing happened. His companions tinkered with the equipment. Still no flow of water came from the hose.

Patrolman David Gardner of the county police department, who was watching, related that a volunteer finally unscrewed the water tank cap of the pumper and peered inside. He reported to his companions the tank apparently was empty.

The volunteers grabbed portable extinguishers and tried again to put the fire out. The truck continued to blaze. Finally, the firefighters climbed back aboard the pumper and drove away.

RUSSIA URGES SUMMIT MEETING FOR SPRING TO TAKE UP DISARMAMENT

MOSCOW, DEC. 3

THE Soviet government today called for another United Nations summit meeting next spring to take up disarmament. A joint communique issued by the Soviet government and visiting Premier Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, said:

"The Soviet Union and Cambodia regard as advisable the convocation in the spring of 1961 of a special session of the U.N. General Assembly with participation of heads of state or governments to examine the problems of disarmament."

Western observers saw it as a move by Premier Khrushchev for a meeting with President-elect John F. Kennedy. Khrushchev headed the Soviet delegation to the current General Assembly in its opening days but was unable to achieve a summit meeting when French President De Gaulle stayed home and President Eisenhower attended only briefly.

KENNEDY BABY IS CARRIED TO MOTHER'S ROOM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—John F. Kennedy Jr., eight days old and out of the incubator, was carried to his mother's room today for the first time.

The baby's doctor, Dr. Edward B. Broocks, reported that the son of President-elect John F. Kennedy was doing fine and was taken to his mother's room, where she gave him his morning bottle.

The baby was placed in an incubator after his premature birth by caesarean section last Nov. 25. But he was out of the incubator all day yesterday and has been put in a regular bassinet, with a light bulb underneath for warmth.

There was still no word on when the baby would be released from the hospital.

S.I.U. TRUSTEES SEEK REPORT ON SEE RESIGNATION

Board Vice Chairman Expresses 'Full Confidence' in President Morris.

A report on the controversy over the resignation of Harold W. See as vice president of Southern Illinois University in charge of the Southwestern Campus will be called for by university trustees at their meeting next Saturday, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

Lindell W. Sturgis, Metropolis banker and vice chairman of the board, said board members have "full confidence" in Delyte W. Morris, university president, who announced See's transfer to other duties, but that members would want to know "what the controversy is all about."

Classes at the university's East St. Louis campus were boycotted yesterday morning by students who picketed the institution with signs calling for See to reconsider his resignation and implying that Morris had forced See's withdrawal.

Students returned to classes in the afternoon. Thomas Evans, supervisor of student affairs, declined comment as to whether they would be disciplined.

Another university trustee, Martin F. Oehmke, East St. Louis attorney, said yesterday he would expect a report from Morris at the board meeting "because the vice presidency is an important position."

John P. Wham, Centralia attorney and chairman of the eight-member board of trustees, also expressed confidence in Morris and said it had been his understanding that See requested transfer from his duties.

Morris announced last Tuesday that he had granted See's request to be relieved from the President to Welcome Kennedy At Door on White House Visit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—President Eisenhower will personally welcome President-elect John F. Kennedy at the main entrance of the White House in elaborate televised ceremonies when they confer next Tuesday, it was announced today.

Mr. Eisenhower also has directed contingents from the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines to line the White House driveway on Kennedy's arrival and a military band also will be present.

The White House has granted permission to television networks to place live television cameras inside the grounds of the Executive Mansion to record Kennedy's arrival and departure.

Kennedy and Mr. Eisenhower were expected to go over problems that the President-elect will face when he assumes office on Jan. 20.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Kennedy's car would enter the grounds through the northwest gate and drive the short distance to the north portico of the mansion. President Eisenhower will be waiting there to greet him and the two men will walk through the White House to the President's office for their conference.

BUSINESS MEN ARE EXPECTED TO BE PLEASED BY SELECTION

Governor, Second to Be Chosen for Cabinet, Says Economic Growth Rate Should Be Increased.

By THOMAS W. OTTENAD
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 3 — President-elect John F. Kennedy announced today the appointment of Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina to be Secretary of Commerce in the new Democratic administration next year.

Kennedy made the long-expected announcement at his family's estate here with Hodges standing at his side. It was the second cabinet appointment made by Kennedy. Thursday he named Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut to be Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Kennedy praised Hodges, a Democrat and former business man whose selection is expected to be received favorably by business leaders, as a man with experience in both business and government.

"During the last four years, under his administration," Kennedy said, "the state of North Carolina has secured one billion dollars in new investment in manufacturing activities, in addition to huge sums for electric utility expansion. Much of this was made possible through Gov. Hodge's background in industry.

"We are fortunate to be able to secure a man of Gov. Hodges's ability and background for this important post."

Challenging Task.

The President-elect said that direction of the Department of Commerce will be "among the most challenging tasks of the '60s," adding:

"Never has it been more important for America to seek imaginative ways of stimulating the growth of its business and industry.

"Never has it been more important for American business to increase its participation in world trade and to demonstrate to the world the strength and vitality of our free enterprise system. It will be the task of the Department of Commerce to meet these challenges by stimulating the flow of exports through its Bureau of Foreign Commerce, imaginative participation in international trade fairs and by helping American industry find new world markets."

In reply to a question, Hodges told reporters he felt the nation's economic condition is "worse than the present Administration has led us to believe."

"Unless we get new stimulation by a rebirth of confidence, we could be in trouble next year. Nothing serious, of course, because America is too strong for that," he said.

Economic Growth Rate.

He indicated he thought the country should have an economic growth rate of between 4 and 5 per cent yearly. The rate has been below that level in recent years.

Hodges said he felt economic growth could be spurred through creating a climate favorable to business and industry. He also said he favored expanded foreign trade, observing that on a recent trip to South America he was told repeatedly that Latin American nations were interested in increased reciprocal trade with the United States rather than direct aid.

The Secretary-designate refused to comment, however, on specific measures for dealing with economic problems, saying he wanted time to study them first.

Hodges said he planned to confer soon with the man he will succeed, Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller.

Hodges, who had arrived earlier from Raleigh, N.C., conferred with Kennedy for 25 minutes before the Cabinet announcement was made. Hodges's train was an hour and 15 minutes behind schedule in arriving at nearby West Palm Beach.

"What a day for this train to be late," was the only thing he had to say to reporters before

RUSSIANS SAID TO BE YIELDING POSITION ON COLONIALISM

Policy Shift Believed Being Made to Court Africans - Asians by Adopting Their Resolution.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—The Soviet bloc, which has been bombarding the United Nations General Assembly with demands for an immediate end to colonialism, was reported quietly giving ground today to a more moderate Asian-African proposal.

Informed sources said the Russians—realizing they have little chance to defeat 45 Asian-African nations backed by many Western states—have decided to support the rival plan and at the same time claim credit for the idea.

The Soviet delegation has made overtures to get the Asian-Africans to make certain key changes in their resolution, which merely calls for "immediate steps" to get the colonial powers to grant freedom to their dependent territories.

The Russians want the Asian-African resolution to read more like their own, which flatly demands that independence be granted to all colonies "forthwith."

Little Progress.

The Communists were said to be making little headway, however. Many of the more moderate members of the Asian-African bloc have cautioned that too quick a transition to freedom might be disastrous for some dependent peoples. They have cited the chaos now existing in the former Belgian Congo as an example.

Speakers from Asia and Africa have warned the assembly that the road to self government is a rocky one that cannot be scaled in one day.

Several nations, including Australia and New Zealand, argued that, although colonialism had many evil aspects, it also had helped backward peoples.

The marathon colonialism debate in which more than 70 nations were listed to speak, winds up its first week today. United States Ambassador James J. Wadsworth is expected to state the American position early next week.

The United States has been the main target of the Soviet bloc nations. They accuse Washington of trying to crush Cuban independence and using its influence through NATO and SEATO to support colonial powers throughout the world.

Colonialism Debate.

Valerian Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, launched the colonialism debate with a speech that contained less than 10 per cent of his own words. The rest was a verbatim repetition of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's propaganda blast against colonialism before the Assembly last October. The Soviet resolution does not specify how or when to end the colonial system.

Although the Soviet resolution demands immediate abolition of colonialism, Zorin skirted the issue in his speech. He has let the Soviet satellites do the talking on this point.

Delegates believe this would make it less awkward for the Russians to abandon their own proposal and support the Asian-African position.

The main aim of the Russian in bringing up the colonialism issue was obviously to win the support of the 25 African states in the Assembly. If they have to support a rival resolution to do this, they apparently are willing to do so.

U.N. COMMITTEE VOTES AGAINST NEWS CENSORSHIP

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 3 (AP)—A United Nations committee voted last night against advance censorship on news, comments and political opinions. The vote was 39 to 22 with 15 abstentions and 23 countries absent.

The Soviet bloc, several African and Middle East countries voted against the measure, sponsored by eight Latin American countries.

Prior to the censorship vote, the Committee on Social Welfare adopted a 10-nation amendment to replace a list of specified limitations on freedom of information by generalized limitations. The vote on it was 46 to 8 with 23 abstentions and 22 countries absent. The United States, was among those voting to bar censorship.

Depressed Area Statement.

Kennedy said today that a previously announced statement to be issued here tomorrow would deal with depressed areas. His remark was made in reply to a question as to whether he might not put a task force to work on the problem of economically depressed sections in advance of his inauguration.

Kennedy arrived here last night from Washington. He planned a weekend of work and relaxation before returning to Washington Monday. He will meet the next day with President Eisenhower. Senator Stuart Symington (Dem.), Missouri, is to confer with Kennedy here Monday on a study the Missourian is making of Defense Department reorganization.

Kennedy said he would go to New York Tuesday evening for a series of conferences there the next day. He said the names of those he would see would be made public after his appointment schedule is completed.

In naming Hodges to the $25,000 a year Cabinet post, Kennedy verified previous speculation. Hodges had been mentioned frequently as the most likely candidate for Secretary of Commerce since long before the presidential election. He worked actively in Kennedy's behalf in the presidential campaign, serving as national chairman of the business and professional organization supporting the Democratic ticket.

Could Not Succeed Self.

Hodges is 62 years old. His first elective public office was that of lieutenant governor, to which he was elected in 1952. Two years later on the death of Gov. William B. Umstead, Hodges succeeded to the governorship.

He was elected to a four-year term in 1956. Under North Carolina law, he cannot succeed himself.

As Governor, Hodges has attracted national attention for his efforts to promote business and industrial development in North Carolina. One of his outstanding projects has been establishment of a so-called "research triangle" in the Durham-Chapel Hill area.

Business firms have been encouraged to locate research centers there to draw on the professional and scientific skills of three nearby universities, Duke, North Carolina State College and the University of North Carolina.

Prominent in Campaign.

Hodges moved into an especially prominent position in Kennedy's organization near the end of the campaign. On the night before the election, he introduced Kennedy on a national television program on which Kennedy answered questions put to him by his three sisters.

Hodges held various positions with Marshall Field & Co. for more than 30 years before he retired from active business life in 1950. In 1939 he became general manager of all of the firm's 29 mills in the United States and abroad. Four years later he became vice president in charge of mills and sales, the position he held until 1950.

Near the end of World War II, he directed a four billion dollar textile pricing program for the Office of Price Administration. In 1945 he served as a special consultant to Secretary of agriculture Clinton P. Anderson.

He served also as head of the industry division of the Economic Co-operation Administration and as a consultant to the State Department.

In racial matters he has said he favors segregation in public schools, but is regarded as moderate in his approach. In his term as Governor, North Carolina law was revised in an effort to circumvent the Supreme Court's desegregation decision of 1954. Hodges is reported to feel that the decision did not require integration but merely prohibited racial segregation.

Kennedy went straight to his family's home on the ocean-front on arrival here last night after a flight from Washington in his private plane, the Caroline.

With the President-elect and his 3-year-old daughter, Caroline, was her governess. Plans are for the child to remain here when Kennedy returns to Washington.

The President-elect's wife, who recently gave birth to their second child, is expected to come here late next week if her condition permits. Kennedy plans to return here to join his family about Dec. 12 and remain until after Christmas.

Before leaving Washington yesterday, Kennedy announced the appointment of David E. Bell, Harvard University professor and former administrative assistant to President Harry S. Truman as director of the Bureau of the Budget.

EDWARD KENNEDY TO MAKE INSPECTION TOUR OF AFRICA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UPI) — Edward M. Kennedy, a younger brother of President-elect John F. Kennedy, is making a 15-day trip to 11 African nations and will give the President-elect a report when he returns.

The younger Kennedy flew yesterday to Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, where he will join Senator Frank Church (Dem.), of Idaho, and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Kennedy will visit The Congo, Nigeria, Togo, Ghana, the Ivory Coast, Liberia, Guinea, the Mali federation and Senegal.

NEWS RESTRICTIONS URGED ON KENNEDY

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (UPI)—A secret memorandum prepared for President-elect John F. Kennedy recommends restrictions on the freedom of reporters to question the Chief Executive at press conferences, Editor & Publisher magazine reported yesterday.

The restrictions would eliminate live radio and television coverage of presidential press conferences by returning to the requirement of written questions and would give the President control over the relations of Cabinet officers with the press, the report said.

The report was prepared by the Brookings Institution, a nonpartisan organization which specializes in research on government and economics. The organization has conducted studies on the problems of the transition in government when the Kennedy Administration takes over in January.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, told reporters at the convention of the journalism fraternity Sigma Delta Chi here that the Brookings report was just one of many. He said all the reports would have to be examined before any decision could be made.

"I would rather not go into that just now," he said.

Salinger, earlier this week in Washington, said that Kennedy is considering some live television news conferences, particularly in the evening when he wants to get his views across to the American people with special emphasis.

The suggested restrictions were opposed vigorously by V. M. Newton Jr., national president of Sigma Delta Chi and managing editor of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune.

"This would put in the hands of one man the right to censor the important news coming from the most important public figure in the free American government," Newton said.

CUBA ASSAILS U.S. FOR GIVING AID TO REFUGEES

Says $1,000,000 Fund Will Go to Enemies of Revolution—Omits Red Reference.

HAVANA, Dec. 3 (AP) — The government-controlled press charged today that the United States is giving aid to Cuban counter-revolutionaries by setting aside $1,000,000 to assist refugees from Fidel Castro's regime.

The press refrained from mentioning the reason Washington decided to assist the refugees: That the United States now considers Castor's regime Communist-controlled.

President Eisenhower announced yesterday he was releasing the funds under terms of the Mutual Security Act, which provides assistance for refugees from Communist - dominated lands. About 30,000 refugees from Cuba have congregated in Florida.

Even though the official Cuban version of Mr. Eisenhower's action was distorted, anti-Castro Cubans in Havana were encouraged. They refer to Miami as "West Berlin."

More trouble was shaping up for Castro in his bitter fight with the Cuban Roman Catholic hierarchy.

Reply to Castro.

Reliable church sources said the hierarchy has drafted a strongly-worded reply to Castro's accusation that the clergy accepted bribes to preach against his regime.

Cuba's top prelates met privately for several hours, the sources said, and drew up a firm rejection of Castro's attack last Sunday in which he termed priests "henchmen in cassocks."

Catholic officials in the past have used pastoral letters and official statements in citing the dangers of Communism. Church informants said they did not know what form the current reply would take.

While the church's attitude toward the Castro regime has hardened recently, it has been soft in relation to the Prime Minister's attacks, usually carried throughout the nation by radio and television.

Firmer Stand by Church.

But now, church informants say, the church has decided to take a much firmer stand because of Castro's censure of the clergy together with his growing harassment of the church's services and private schools.

Meanwhile, Castro's diplomats have established formal relations with two more major Communist states—North Viet Nam and North Korea. Cuba is the first Latin American country to set up formal ties with these countries.

Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Castro's economic envoy, has just completed a 15-day visit to Red China which was recognized diplomatically earlier. Peiping gave him a $60,000,000 loan by Communist figuring, and other economic concessions.

Guevara now is in North Korea discussing economic, scientific and technical co-operation.

Venezuelan Students Give Up University Stronghold in Truce

Officials Enter Area to Search for Arms—Compromise Ends Fighting in Caracas.

CARACAS, Dec. 3—Venezuelan government forces prepared today to search Central University for hidden weapons after the last 320 students had evaculated the fenced in "University City."

The formal end of resistance by left-wing students who had used their legal sanctuary for a week as a base for attacking police and burning buses and automobiles seemed to herald a lull in the turmoil that has threatened the survival of President Romulo Betancourt's moderate democratic government.

But crowds of students continued to gather in Plaza Venezuela at the north gate of the University City enclosure, where they jeered at police and anyone they thought to be a "gringo."

Occasional violence continued. Early today, police shot and killed a woman student and wounded a professor who accompanied her when they disregarded an order to halt and sped away from a road block in an automobile. Last night a gang of teen-age boys stopped a bus and set it afire a half mile from the university.

Arranged In Compromise

The evacuation and search for arms were arranged by a faculty council, students and army authorities in a compromise that preserved the university's legal autonomy. There had been rumors yesterday that the army would force its way inside to break the resistance.

Several days delay in reaching the settlement gave students inside plenty of time to find new hiding places for the weapons they had used to snipe at police and army forces outside the fence. There were reports that students had been seen carrying bundles through a wooded hilly area behind the university dormitories. The wild area extends to a slum area known as La Charneca.

The arms search was arranged through a delegation from the Venezuelan First District Court, which questioned army officers and then asked for permission to carry the investigation inside the campus.

Arms Kept in Cave.

The army commander on the scene told the court delegation that the students had been keeping their arms and ammunition in a cave in the university botanical gardens, at the edge of the wooded area.

He said students reportedly had been carrying their weapons and ammunition from the cave to the School of Tropical Medicine and from there to the basement of "Stalingrad," nickname for the dormitory where left-wing students live. From there the supplies were distributed to snipers, the commander said.

When the judicial party entered the university, groups of students protested against this "invasion" Soldiers and armored cars stood by to prevent any new outbreak.

GUATEMALAN ENVOY MUST FACE NARCOTICS CHARGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (UPI) — A United States district judge ruled yesterday that a Guatemalan diplomat seized here on a narcotics smuggling charge does not have diplomatic immunity and must stand trial.

Mauricio Rosal, former Guatemalan ambassador to Belgium, was arrested with three other men Oct. 3 on charges of possessing pure heroin valued at $4,000,000. Rosal claimed immunity on the ground that he was en route from his post in Europe to Guatemala when he was seized. Judge William B. Heralds ruled Rosal was not traveling on diplomatic business.

The diplomat was dismissed from his post after his arrest and is being held in lieu of bail pending trial.

POPE CALLS TALK WITH DR. FISHER BASIS FOR HOPE

Session With Anglican Only Touched Threshold of Problems, He Says.

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 3 (AP) —Pope John XXIII said today his meeting with the Archbishop of Canterbury "went only as far as the threshold of great problems," but left hope for their eventual solution.

The head of the Roman Catholic Church made this comment to Cardinals and Archbishops with whom he participated in preparatory services for the Christmas season.

At the end of the services, the Pope told the prelates of his 65-minute talk yesterday with Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, primate of the Church of England.

"I admire the sincere force of good will which Dr. Fisher is carrying forward," the Pope said. "Our meeting took place in an atmosphere of cordiality and understanding on both sides."

"Of course," the Pope said, "our talks went only as far as the threshold of great problems.

"Naturally the crusts formed during four centuries are many, but with understanding and mutual contacts, (in) which Dr. Fisher courageously undertook to take the initiative, with time there could come love and the truth."

The general view in church circles in Rome was that the meeting—the first ever between a head of the Catholic Church and a primate of the Anglican Church—would stimulate other contacts between Catholic and Protestant churchmen seeking Christian unity.

The Vatican press office issued a bulletin amplifying Pope John's remarks to the Cardinals as the Archbishop took off for home today. It said the Pope described the encounter as one that has "caused much interest and even fantasies." It said the Pope again referred to the ecumenical council he has called, and repeated that the council renews the invitation even to Christians of separated communities "to pledge themselves amiably for the unity of faith and of grace to which so many souls already aspire in all regions of the earth."

Dr. Fisher said yesterday he considered the meeting historic and told reporters "good examples are sometimes followed."

SCHOOL LEADERS ENCOURAGED IN NEW ORLEANS AS BOYCOTT SLIPS

10 Whites Attend at William Frantz — Judge Clamps Down on Banks Cashing Board's Checks.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (UPI) —Officials of the newly integrated New Orleans school system were encouraged today by the weakening of a white pupil boycott and a federal judge's moves to rescue the embattled system from going broke.

The second school week of integration ended with 10 white pupils in William Frantz school with one Negro. It was the highest white attendance all week. Seven of the white pupils were children of clergymen.

But another boycott remained perfect at McDonogh No. 19 school, where three other Negro 6-year-olds were the only students attending the previously all-white schoo..

United States District Judge J. Skelly Wright, who ordered integration to begin Nov. 14, ordered four New Orleans banks yesterday to show cause why they should not be enjoined from turning down checks signed by the school board.

Warning From Legislature.

He ordered attorneys for the National Bank of Commerce, the Hibernia National, the Whitney National and the National American Banks to appear before him Monday.

School board checks were reported to have bounced because of a State Legislature resolution warning the banks they would do business with the board "at your own risk." The lawmakers consider they have fired the city school board.

The Legislature took over the school board's offices last month and made a paper transfer to itself of $728,000 in board funds. But Judge Wright almost immediately ordered them out of the offices and warned them to stop trying to interfere with his integration order.

In another move yesterday, Judge Wright refused to allow a state court to try the Legislature's suit to unseat the school board. The state filed the suit last month in civil district court, but Wright ordered the case tried in Federal Court.

Teacher Pay Held Up.

Judge Wright denied the motion of state attorneys that the Legislature's suit be sent back to state court. The ruling favored school board attorney Sam Rosenberg, who said state trial of the case would constitute a violation of Judge Wright's own injunctions against state interference.

In Baton Rouge, state officials confirmed they were holding up the pay-checks of teachers at the two integrated schools pending investigation. The teachers have not missed a day's work, the school board said, but they have not been paid since integration started.

The Louisiana House gave quick, unanimous approval yesterday to a bill providing grant-in-aid funds for parents who wish to send their children to private schools. A sponsor said the measure would not interfere with the public school system. The measure won speedy approval from a Senate committee last night.

Leases were signed on two buildings to be converted into private schools for pupils in the first three grades of Frantz and McDonogh schools.

Classes Possible Monday.

C. E. Vetter, a member of the Downtown Citizens Council in New Orleans, said volunteers would work on the structures over the weekend and classes may be started in them Monday.

Gov. Jimmie Davis hinted at a press conference of a long series of special sessions of the Legislature in opposition to Judge Wright's injunction and that of a three-judge federal panel against state efforts to thwart the integration order.

Asked where money would come from for special legislative sessions and promotion of private schools, Davis replied:

"We'll sell some butter and eggs—or something."

The attendance rise at Frantz torpedoed state education superintendent Shelby Jackson's hope of invoking an old state law calling for closure of schools with fewer than 10 students.

Faces Contempt Charge.

Enforcement of the old law was held unlikely because it could be interpreted as a violation of Judge Wright's hands-off injunction. Jackson already faces a contempt citation for declaring a school holiday—which was ignored by the school system—on the first day of integration.

The Frantz attendance also demoralized the embittered segregationist demonstrators who had hoped to prevent the white parents from returning with their children. Police kept demonstrators so far away from the school that their insults could barely be heard by the parents.

A women's group called Save Our Schools helped organize the breakthrough and took most of the children to school in different cars along various routes to fool the demonstrators.

"We're on our way," said New Orleans schools superintendent James Redmond when he learned of the Frantz attendance. School president Lloyd Rittiner predicted the McDonogh boycott also would be broken.

Robbers' Note; Auditors Checking Loss

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

Note used by two men who robbed teller at Mercantile Trust Co. of $15,266 in daring holdup yesterday.

Teller Saw Nothing Unusual About Bag Thrust Into Cage

The brown paper bag thrust beneath the bars of her cage yesterday looked like an ordinary bank transaction to Miss Ruby Nafie, teller at Mercantile Trust Co.

And even when she noticed a piece of paper with some letters pasted on it in the bag, she thought nothing of it, Miss Nafie related today. In fact, she started to hand the paper back to the man who had brought the bag when his words froze her hand.

He said, "Give me all of it, or I'll kill you."

Then she looked at the paper. Letters cut sloppily from some kind of publication had been pasted together to form the words, "Give me the money in the right draw."

Miss Nafie stuffed $15,226 in the bag, auditors learned later.

Started to Count Coins.

"A lot of people bring their money in a paper bag like that," Miss Nafie told a reporter. "Some bring it wrapped in newspapers even. I didn't think anything about it.

"I had come back from lunch about 11:20. About 20 minutes later, this man set the bag through the window. I automatically dumped out the contents. I remember seeing some quarters, and I started spreading them out on the counter to count them. I saw this little piece of paper, picked it out and started to hand it back to him."

At that point the man spoke up, quietly "but plenty loud enough for me to hear," Miss Nafie said.

"I picked up the money in the drawer and began putting it in the bag," she went on. "I don't know if he got nervous, or if he saw the guard and thought he was a policeman or what. But he said, 'That's enough.' I handed the bag back to him, and he left."

The robber left behind the coins that he had brought to the bank in the paper bag.

A second man then stood at her window for a moment. Without a word, he turned and walked away, going in a different direction than had the first man.

"I can't swear they were together," Miss Nafie said. "They never spoke a word to each other. The second man just blocked my window until the first man had gone."

Both men were dressed in work clothes. The man in front had a hat pulled low over his eyes, Miss Nafie said. The other man wore a cap. The teller could not recall having seen either man in the bank before.

Miss Nafie was not certain whether the pair had to wait for a moment at her window. She thought another employe might have been in front of the window when the men approached. Business in the bank at that moment was slow, she said. There were no lines in front of any of the windows that she observed.

Mostly 10s and 20s.

The right-hand drawer from which she took the money she placed in the bag contained what Miss Nafie called "the good money." It was mostly $20 and $10 bills, neatly wrapped and intended to be paid out to customers that afternoon.

Some of it, she said, was new money she had ordered that morning for Christmas business.

When the second man left the window, Miss Nafie called to another teller, who immediately went to her cage. The second teller summoned bank executives quickly. As she began to realize what had happened, Miss Nafie began to feel faint. She was given a sedative and was taken to a sixth-floor room in the bank building to recover her composure.

Bank Robbery

March 2, 1959. Mrs. Ruth Henderson, teller at a credit payment window, was robbed of $1500 to $2000 by a man who threatened to kill her. A young man in a black jacket waited behind two customers and, when they had completed their business, he handed her a paper bag.

The robber directed in a low voice that the teller put the banded money in the bag. "Don't sound the alarm, or I will kill you," he said. The tone of his voice was so low that the command was not overheard by two other tellers working nearby. No weapon was displayed, although the man indicated he was armed.

FIRE DESTROYS LANDMARK

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP) —Fire swept through a century-old landmark in the city's French Quarter early today and completely destroyed Gluck's restaurant, just one block below Canal street.

About 75 persons were in the restaurant and had to be evacuated as the flames punched through a wall from an adjoining theater where the fire apparently started. There was no estimate of damage.

COCHRAN HOMES MANAGER HELPS CATCH ROBBERS

He and Watchman Subdue Two Who Made Threat — Liquor Store Is Held Up.

Burt P. Steingruby, manager of the Cochran Apartments, with the help of a watchman captured two men who he said attempted to rob him last night as he left the apartments at 1401 North Seventh street.

Steingruby told police the men approached him as he left his automobile to replace a chain barring access to a driveway. When one of the men said, "I've got a rod on you. Don't make a rumble," Steingruby began to scuffle with them.

Connie Dorn, a watchman at the apartments, heard the commotion and ran over with his dog, Gypsy. One of Steingruby's assailants tried to flee. Dorn fired one shot in the air, and the man stopped.

Steingruby, meanwhile, subdued the other man. Police were called and booked the pair suspected of assault and attempted robbery. The men identified themselves as James Cook, 24 years old, of San Diego, and Gerald J. Mann, 22, of Hillman, Mich. They denied having tried to rob Steingruby. They said he had insulted them and had begun to fight with them.

Treated for Laceration.

Steingruby, 43, who lives at 7347 Gayola place, Maplewood, was treated at City Hospital for a laceration over the eye. Mann suffered a bruised ankle.

Thomas Wolftman, operator of a liquor store at 4233 Manchester avenue, fired three shots in an unsuccessful attempt to stop two men who robbed him of $200 yesterday. The holdup men also took wallets from two customers in the store. When the robbers left, Wolftman got a pistol he kept in the store, ran out the back door and fired at the men who had just gotten into an automobile. The robbers fled, apparently unhurt.

Solomon Goz, operator of a market at 1354 Clara avenue, was attacked by two youths who robbed him of an undetermined amount of money yesterday. Goz told police one of the youths struck him on the head with a pistol. He was treated at Homer G. Phillips Hospital for head injuries.

Struck With Pistol.

Malan J. Millard, 3121 California avenue, told police he was assaulted by two men as he entered his car in the 3000 block of Rutger street last night. One of the men struck him on the head with a pistol several times, Millard said. He said his screams frightened the men off before they took anything.

Mrs. Augusta Seidler, 8311 Minnesota avenue, was robbed of $51 by a man who grabbed her purse and knocked her down as she walked in the 8200 block of Minnesota last night. Mrs. Seidler, 72, told police the man then ran across the street and got in a car with a second man.

Mrs. Loretta Shaw, operator of a market at 1370 McCausland avenue, was robbed of $100 last night by a man armed with a pistol.

Two men robbed the operator of the Malec IGA grocery, 1914 Lincoln avenue, East St. Louis, of $250 last night. One of the men pushed the cashier, Mrs. Laverne Mayfield, out of the way and opened the cash register, while the second man stood near the door and warned employes to remain still.

School Funds Stolen.

Robert St. Clair, 842 North Thirty-first street, East St. Louis, was robbed of between $1000 and $1500 yesterday while driving near Seventh street and Broadway in East St. Louis. St. Clair, an employe of the East St. Louis Board of Education, told police that a man forced him to the curb and took six canvas bags containing receipts from various public school cafeterias. The robber held his hand in his pocket as if he had a weapon, St. Clair said.

Hyman Chaskelson, 8605 Spoon drive, University City, and Edward Hart, 8825 Eichler avenue, Jennings, insurance collectors, told police they were robbed last night of a total of $141 and a watch by two men in the 3100 block of Brantner place. One of the men threatened them with a knife, they said.

James A. Ramsey, 4124 McPherson avenue, said two men robbed him of $7 and his topcoat last night after he accepted a ride with them in the 4100 block of Maryland avenue. The men stopped the car in the 4600 block of Newberry terrace, Ramsey said, got out and entered a second car in which they drove away.

$1,900,000 Riverfront Parking Garage Bill Is Approved

Board of Aldermen Passes Measure — Park Service Agreement to Be Amended.

A bill providing for the construction of $1,900,000 parking garage for about 1000 automobiles at the northwest corner of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial was passed by the Board of Aldermen yesterday.

Under the measure, city officials would be authorized to amend an existing agreement with the National Park Service to provide for setting aside an area at Washington avenue and the Third Street Highway for the parking facility.

An initial $250,000 for the project would be withdrawn from a joint city-government fund, representing proceeds from present parking on the site. The city would contribute an additional $350,000, of which $300,000 would be from parking meter funds.

The remaining $1,300,000 needed for the construction would come from revenue bonds to be issued by the city, to be retired from earnings of the parking facility.

It was understood the facility would provide for parking both above and below ground.

Another bill passed by the board would require owners of demolished buildings to put adjoining sidewalks in usable condition by filling and resurfacing coal holes and other openings in walks.

In other action a bill was introduced by Alderman Harold I. Elbert (Rep.), Twenty-eighth ward, authorizing the city counselor to subpena books and records in the enforcment of the zoning, rooming house and minimum housing ordinances.

Alderman Joseph McDonald (Rep.), Twenty-fifth ward, reintroduced a bill he sponsored a year ago, under which certain dwellings now restricted to one and two families could be occupied by three families.

Requirements for three-family use, under the measure, would be at least three rooms and 700 square feet of floor space for each family unit, complete bath and kitchen facilities on the same floor and at least one off-street parking space per family.

McDonald also introduced a bill to amend the zoning code to permit office buildings in multiple-family districts. Under the measure, certain incidental uses of such buildings, for pharmacies, laboratories and restaurants, would be permitted provided they did not front on the street. Also, the site of such a building would be required to adjoin a commercial district.

Earlier in the session, Thomas M. O'Shea, former assistant circuit attorney, was sworn in as alderman for the Fifteenth ward. A Democrat, O'Shea was elected in November to fill the unexpired term of A. J. Cervantes, who was elected president of the Board of Aldermen two years ago. The post had been vacant since 1958. The term expires in April.

NEW RESTAURANT LICENSING FEE BASIS PROPOSED

A plan to revise the counting of restaurant seats for licensing purposes was introduced in the Board of Alderman yesterday.

Two bar seats in restaurants where intoxicating liquors are served would count as one seat and each parking place in a drive-in restaurant would count for four seats under the proposed revision.

Alderman James Geisler (Dem.), Tenth Ward, one of four aldermen who introduced the measure, said it was the result of a number of complaints received from restaurant owners about present licensing requirements. The license fee is based on the seating capacity and ranges from $25 to $150 a year.

Geisler said that restaurant owners have complained also that their seats are being counted by health inspectors rather than the license collector. The operators are not informed of changes in their fees until bills are received, he said.

COUNTY BABY FOUND DROWNED IN BATH

Mother Left 16-Month-Old Boy Alone Momentarily.

William Whalen, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Whalen, 1224 Arch terrace, Richmond heights drowned in the bathtub of his home yesterday.

The baby's mother told St. Louis County Coroner Raymond I. Harris she was bathing the child and left the bathroom momentarily to go downstairs, where her husband was. When the Whalens noticed that the splashing sounds the child was making had suddenly stopped, they rushed to the bathroom.

Artificial respiration was administered by Whalen and later by members of the Richmond Heights fire department. The child was dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital.

Harris quoted Mrs. Whalen as saying the tub contained from two to five inches of water.

SHARP RISE IN NEW CLAIMS FOR JOBLESS INSURANCE

Initial claims for unemployment insurance for St. Louis and St. Louis county for the week ended yesterday showed a sharp increase over the previous week, Charles G. DeLargy, metropolitan manager of the Missouri Division of Employment Security, announced.

He said the claims totaled 3975, 1695 above last week's figure of 2280 and 242 above the total for the same week a year ago. DeLargy attributed the increase partly to the fact that fewer claims were filed last week because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Continued claims for the period totaled 15,917. This is 2987 more than last week but 2407 fewer claims than were continued for a comparable period a year ago when there was a national steel shortage.

2 TEXANS GET 30 DAYS EACH FOR BOMBING RACE RALLY

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 3 (AP)—Two University of Texas students who admitted exploding a bomb outside an integration rally were sentenced last night to 30 days in the county jail and fined $200 each.

William Harvey McKnight, 20 years old, son of a Kerrville nurseryman, and John Hunter Winborn, 19, son of a Dallas attorney, were taken to the Travis county jail. District Court Judge Mace Thurman Jr. found them guilty of "injuring property belonging to others" under $50, a misdemeanor.

The explosion outside the university Y.M.C.A. building last Tuesday night cracked one window and damaged the window sill. Inside, about 20 persons, including eight Negroes, discussed continuation of campus demonstrations against segregated eating places. No one was hurt. The meeting was not interrupted.

A Doctor's Dissent

Your editorial, "Victimizing the Sick," is ambiguous as well as unfair. You failed to make it clear whether the victimization that you envision is a result of the quality of medical practice of inadequately trained foreign medical graduates or of the efforts now being made to screen these physicians with respect to their competence.

Attacks on the American Medical Association are popular these days, but your criticism in this instance appears to be totally unjustified. The examination was devised by a group of dedicated educators who made every effort to make it fair. Great pains were taken to eliminate American medical jargon that might prove confusing to the foreign-educated physician.

I have had an opportunity to see large portions of the examination and have been impressed by the emphasis on common medical problems and their treatment. The examination is certainly less stringent than that administered for licensure in most states. It is known that 98 per cent of graduates of American medical colleges can pass it.

Your editorial does not make it clear that, in addition to the 3776 foreign-trained doctors who passed outright, approximately 2000 others attained a grade of 70 to 75. These doctors were given temporary certificates that enable them to undertake or continue training in this country for two years. During this time, they are helped in preparing for another examination.

The answers to the questions that you raise is that no "double standard" is involved and discrimination against doctors trained abroad is certainly not intended. The A.M.A. in conjunction with the American Hospital Association and the Association of Medical Colleges cooperated in the sponsorship of the examination not to keep the number of doctors down but to protect the American public from incompetent and dangerous medical ministrations in American hospitals.

Of course, it is most unfortunate that these problems were not anticipated by either the State Department or the medical profession. But now that the problems have been recognized, efforts directed at finding a solution should not be condemned. I cannot see anything "arrogant" about this.

While it is true that the number of physicians graduated from American medical schools has not kept pace with expansion of the population, your implication that the A.M.A. is responsible for limiting the number of doctors is without reasonable foundation. I frequently find myself in opposition to A.M.A. policies, but I hate to see any organization or individual condemned falsely.

While the A.M.A. may have some widely advertised faults, the public must begin to recognize also its outstandingly important educational activities without which American medicine would not have attained its present high standards.

Ballots to be Counted

Count! Count! Count! If those who counted the votes in the first place didn't have gumption enough to get them right, how in thunder are we to know if they are ever right?

A St. Louis Woman

Talking Back to H. S. T.

Mr. Truman stated recently that he didn't care what happened to the farmers. Why? Because they voted Republican. Now, Mr. Truman, where would this country be without farmers? Is it possible that our independent-minded farmers read about Kennedy's plans for regimenting farms and voted accordingly? Some of these plans make F.D.R. look like a Goldwater Republican.

I'm not very happy about the way many union members voted, but I do care what happens to them, and that is why I'm very concerned about the implementation of the radical platform upon which Kennedy ran.

After being President for almost eight years, Mr. Truman should know that our elected representatives should govern for the benefit of the whole people, not for any special pressure groups who control blocks of votes. This is especially true in the new administration since its margin of victory is so small. Or has age failed to bring maturity to H.S.T.?

The Forgotten Safeguard

The Army Engineers' warning that potential disasters are building up at a phenomenal rate on the flood plains of the nation is both grave and timely. In the report of a study made at the request of the Senate Committee on National Water Resources, the Corps of Engineers says potential annual flood losses may rise from the present $700,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 by 1980 as more people and industries move into the lowlands which are the natural outlets of rivers in flood. Committee Chairman Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma says the report shows "exposure to disaster is expanding faster than action is being taken to protect lives and property."

This is a warning which has been sounded before, but there is little evidence that it is being heeded. Quite to the contrary, conditions have grown worse since the Tennessee Valley Authority called the nation's attention to the necessity for flood-plain zoning eight years ago. The worsening has occurred, moreover, in the face of repeated warnings from a variety of authoritative quarters.

The Missouri Basin Survey Commission, of which the late Senator Hennings of Missouri was vice-chairman, said in 1953, with special respect to the growing flood problem at the Kansas Citys, that flood-plain zoning would have to be employed in any workable solution. Two years later, officers of the Corps of Engineers, commenting on the flood havoc wrought by hurricanes Connie and Diane in the northeastern part of the United States, said that for many parts of the stricken area flood-plain zoning was the only way to prevent a flood disaster from happening again.

That same year, zoning laws prohibiting residential and business occupancy of flood plains throughout the country were proposed by Wesley W. Horner, of St. Louis, former president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and Thorndike Saville, dean of the College of Engineering at New York University. And last year a study group of six geographers at the University of Chicago reported that for every dollar being spent on flood protection in the United States, 80 cents was being spent in building new property that floods might damage or destroy—including urban development projects financed with federal funds.

This would seem to have been an impressive-enough sounding of alarms and portents to fall on some receptive ears. But the trend toward building an ever bigger disaster potential on the natural spillways of major rivers and their tributaries continues unabated. Perhaps flood protection has been oversold. Flood control does not mean flood elimination—a reservoir may be overflowed, a levee may break, a flood may take on dimensions no one ever anticipated. In addition, there are many developed areas in the United States where flood control works would cost more than they would be worth.

Already this country has built or is building enough flood storage to hold the amount of water it would take to cover the state of Oklahoma some two feet deep. It has built or is building enough levees to reach nearly four times across the continent. More are needed, but reservoir sites are being exhausted, levees are approaching the limits of their usefulness—in some instances have already done so. The next big job is zoning—the forgotten safeguard against flood disasters, and the brightest remaining opportunity for their prevention.

An Unnecessary Court

We disagree with those sincere civic leaders who have urged the creation of a special court to enforce housing, zoning and sanitation ordinances in St. Louis.

The argument for such a court surely should rest in large measure on some showing that the two city courts, where such violations now are heard, cannot carry the load. But this is in fact not the situation. While each of the city courts handles about 250 cases a day, most of this activity involves simple guilty pleas in traffic cases. Dockets usually are clear by 1:30 p.m. The city courts have both the opportunity and the authority to crack down on housing and zoning violations that the City Counselor's office can prove.

It seems to us that the answer to the problems of improved enforcement lies elsewhere. One problem area is the Building Inspector's office, which no doubt could use more manpower. Another is the Police Department which surely must bear some responsibility for detecting violations. Local government may not be doing the job it should in the area of housing, zoning and sanitation, but creating an unnecessary new court is hardly an effective remedy.

European Growing Pains

Considering the safeguards or frustrations—depending on a protectionist or anti-protectionist viewpoint—which are standard ingredients of American trade legislation, it sometimes seems that the six member-nations of the European Common Market are making their difficult adjustments in tariffs and quotas with unbelievable ease. But this impression must be attributed to the fact that for once the good news rather than the bad has been getting the headlines.

The Europeans, of course, are having their troubles. That is being illustrated currently by West Germany's reluctance to accept the over-all agricultural policy called for by the general agreement to remove trade barriers. The French and the Dutch particularly want to sell more of their produce in industrial Germany, but the Germans have renewed for another year their agreement to import large quantities of farm produce from Denmark, not a member of the Common Market.

The Germans assert they are being reasonable. They have barred French cattle and beef on the claim that the cattle are diseased. (The French recently tightened up their health controls.) But the Germans also object to the subsidies still paid by some Common Market members for the export of farm commodities. This, they say, constitutes unfair competition. Here they are within their rights under the agreement. Yet some governments are threatening not to go along with the next scheduled round of tariff and quota cuts unless the Germans give ground.

The problem would be simplified if Denmark and other non-members could be brought into the Common Market. Indeed Germany's attitude may stem in part from its desire to enlarge the economic community. Yet whether that is done or not, it seems safe to say that the argument over foodstuffs will be settled with a reasonable degree of satisfaction to all involved since the advantages of an economically integrated continent—to say nothing of the contemplated political integration—is recognized as one of the most creative ventures ever undertaken by Europeans. But making it work isn't as easy as pie.

As More Satellites Orbit

Though Russia failed to bring its third satellite of 1960 back to earth, the five-ton weight involved suggests how far ahead Moscow is in ability to get enormous payloads into outer space. Our heaviest satellite, Midas II which was launched last May 24, weighed only 5000 pounds.

It is expected to be late next year before our Centaur, which could launch a five-ton payload, will be ready. Had budgetary pressure not resulted in delays and finally in cancellation of the Vega, we might now be hurling aloft satellites rivaling those of Moscow. As for the claim that our instrumentation may be superior to that in Soviet satellites, and so put our smaller vehicles on a par with the bigger Soviet ones, there is no definite answer yet.

But there is no reason to think the latest Soviet satellite was not well instrumented. On launching it had two dogs, other small animals, insects and plants on board and was scheduled to send back or record information on physiological reactions. Moscow also referred to the satellite's capability for "investigations of outer space physics."

It is to be hoped that Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev is right when he says the new satellite will contribute "to the cause of peace and to world scientific and cultural progress." But it would mean much more if Moscow had accepted the invitations from President Eisenhower and the State Department for joint co-operation in space projects. It should be recognized that Russia and the United States cannot remain the only nations to explore outer space if hate and envy are to be avoided. There are a dozen nations without launching facilities but with eminent scientists. These nations should be permitted to participate in the experimentation now going on. That would mean more than talk about unilateral contributions to mankind.

If there were co-operation among nations on satellite launchings, the effect of any accident in which a missile fell on foreign soil or ships and caused injuries or damage would be mitigated. The report that parts of an American rocket or satellite may have fallen in Cuba illustrates the risks that go with any kind of rocketry. And just as debris from aborted launchings can cause trouble, so could stray satellites which had been launched unannounced.

The sooner there is some kind of co-operation, backed by international agreement on space, the sooner the path to outer space will be cleared of dangerous obstacles.

Among Ways to Air Safety

The accident rate in private and commercial flying is low but it can and should be reduced even more. The greater the interest that is taken in all phases of air safety, the better the chances of improving the record. So it is good to know that the Air Line Pilots Association, which enjoys a reputation for pioneering and persistence in air safety, is conducting a campaign for safer airports.

A recent ALPA survey of 170 airports in the United States disclosed such deficiencies as these: no surveillance radar, 86 per cent; runways too short, 79 per cent; no approach lighting, 70 per cent; no instrument landing facilities, 67 per cent; no control tower, 58 per cent. The ALPA says that increasing numbers of pilots will seek to confer with civic officials and leaders on the need for installing equipment to bring all airports closer to the ideal. As evidence of the need, the ALPA offers statistics showing that in 1959 airport deficiencies accounted for one out of every three airliner accidents. That is a high percentage even if it includes minor mishaps in which pilot error resulted in an airliner going off the runway.

Safety in the air demands the co-operation of all persons who have anything to do with it—management, crew personnel, mechanics, plane manufacturers, federal agencies and passengers. Good luck to the ALPA in its new campaign—and at the same time it is not amiss to hope that ALPA also will aid the cause of safety by more willing co-operation with the Federal Aviation Agency.

Housing Plans Not Enough

The Waring school, opposite Vashon high school, will accommodate all the grade school children in the rebuilt Mill Creek Valley area—or almost all of them—in the opinion of Assistant School Superintendent Kottmeyer. But James Scheuer, who is to put up 1700 of its 2100 residential units, foresees a tragedy if more school facilities are not provided.

While an absolutely precise judgment cannot be formulated in advance, Mr. Scheuer seems to have logic on his side. After all, he is planning a stable, family community. So he is in a position to estimate how many children may be expected to live in the dramatic new neighborhood now in the making.

Of course, the availability or the lack of schools will make a difference, he acknowledges. If there are not enough schools, the neighborhood could become, he said, "an agglomeration of efficiency and one-bedroom units populated by transients, single people, childless couples, newlyweds and older couples whose children have left the nest." Such people must be accommodated, but a good neighborhood needs the stability of family homes—and the facilities which such homes bring into being.

The difference of opinion between Kottmeyer and Scheuer suggests that there has not been enough co-operation between the Board of Education and the Mill Creek developers. The fact that the Board presently has no money for school construction in the area does not preclude a realistic appraisal of its needs.

This problem was one of several brought out in connection with Scheuer's presence at the YWCA conference on the human element in redevelopment. As a result, the participating municipal officials, university people and private citizens are more aware of the broad plans which must be made now rather than after the "For Rent" signs go up on the new buildings. No agency concerned, directly or indirectly, can afford to let this impressive and important urban revitalization grow "just like Topsy."

"I DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU, BUT I'VE NEVER BEEN HIGHER."

Year-Around Schooling?

Educational Expenses Raise Question of Better Use of Existing Plant, Editorial Says

From The Detroit News

We have noted the virtues of Michigan State University-Oakland's move to year-round operation. The next question follows naturally: What about the grade schools?

If it makes little sense for colleges to throw away a big chunk of the year in deference to outmoded agricultural needs, why should the public schools do it?

The question gains new life with publication of the report of the President's Commission on National Goals, which in its section on education calls for greater improvement, qualitative and quantitative, and sets as a fiscal goal the expenditure of 40 billion dollars a year—double the present outlay—by 1970.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

As one part of the whole, the commission's goal is not revolutionary. It wants to raise educational outlay from the present 4 per cent of gross national product to a not much less modest 5 per cent. There is little doubt that this rich economy should, can and will move in that direction.

But the increased burden of education will fall heavily upon taxes, along with heavier burdens in several other fields. The question of the weight and shape of taxes as they affect the general health of the economy is a complex thing. A free society must tread carefully when it considers boosting a tax take which aready exceeds a quarter of the gross national product.

We must upgrade our educational system; is more money PER SE the only road to improvement? Can we not make more strenuous efforts to better use what we have?

Year-round use of school plant and staff offers one such area to be explored. Much high-priced plant lies largely unused all summer, except for abbreviated summer sessions. Much high-priced teaching talent (excuse us, teachers—talent which would be high-priced if we paid teachers what we want them to be worth) is turned loose.

A modern, sensible plan of operation would utilize this idle set of resources for use in two directions: Handling more students with a given number of classrooms and teachers, and/or more learning packed into a given calendar year.

Certainly there are difficulties to contend with. Schools and parents are acclimated to things as they are. Teachers not content with current salary scales are nevertheless loath to give up their long summer holiday even for a plan which would add more to their income than the haphazard employment they find in the summer. Parents who rail at ever-higher tax bills are all the same hostile to an extended school year simply because it complicates the family vacation schedule.

But most difficulties can be solved by the application of enough thought and effort. This is one area which deserves at least as much work as some of the more esoteric matters which pass these days for educational research.

The Doctors' Handwriting

From The New York Herald Tribune

Doctors' handwriting, like medical jargon, long has been a mystery to the mass of mankind, so it's significant that the administration of Mount Sinai hospital has decided to do something about it. The hospital's complaint is that it's becoming impossible to read the writing on charts and records.

So an outside foundation has been asked to lend its help in teaching the doctors penmanship. It's a move that will bring widespread approval, although many of us have long suspected that doctors don't really write writing, so to speak. Instead, they write a set of prearranged signals which only a pharmacist can decipher. It remains to be seen, of course, whether doctors will respond to their new opportunity.

Between Book Ends

Sacco and Vanzetti—Two Views

SACCO-VANZETTI—THE MURDER AND THE MYTH, by Robert H. Montgomery. (Devin-Adair, 370 pgs., $5.)

THE UNTRIED CASE, by Herbert B. Ehrmann. (Vanguard, 268 pgs., $3.95.)

The late Joseph N. Welch once said the Commonwealth of Massachusetts produced three criminal trials of legendary proportions: the Salem Witchcraft trials, the trial of Lizzie ("forty whacks") Borden, and the Sacco-Vanzetti case. There is no doubt, however, that the last-mentioned stands alone as the most famous and unique criminal case in our nation's history.

Sacco and Vanzetti, two alien anarchists, were arrested on suspicion, in May, 1920. They were subsequently charged with the murders of a paymaster and his guard during a payroll robbery at South Braintree, Mass. The crime and trial occurred during the infamous "red scare" raids and deportations. Investigation revealed that both men had fled to Mexico during World War to escape the draft. Ultimately, the two men were convicted and executed, but during the seven years between the crime and the executions, the case became an international cause celebre which dwarfs the more recent Rosenberg and Chessman controversies.

An analysis of the trial record tends to show tenuous eyewitness identification, inexpert and juggled ballistics evidence, a prejudiced trial judge and inept defense counsel. Following the convictions, the defense made several motions for a new trial based upon newly discovered evidence and upon the trial judge's prejudice. While the defendants awaited the results of the various appeals, a wretched epileptic felon named Celestino Madieros confessed to participation in the South Braintree holdup and murders and declared that Sacco and Vanzetti were innocent. Madieros was being held in the same prison with the defendants, awaiting a ruling on a motion for a new trial following his conviction for murder in an attempted bank robbery.

Under these circumstances, the sometimes contradictory confession seemed of little help to Sacco and Vanzetti. To the astonishment of their attorneys, however, an investigation produced a mass of corroborative facts and coincidences. Eventually the defense was able to present a substantial body of proof which tended to show that the South Braintree murders were actually committed by a well known gang of professional criminals, the Morelli gang.

Unfortunately, with Sacco and Vanzetti safely convicted and in prison, the Massachusetts authorities declined to push any official investigation. All appeals were rejected by the same judge who conducted the trial, by the Governor, and by a special advisory committee appointed by him. Sacco and Vanzetti were preceded in the electric chair by Madieros, on Aug. 22, 1927.

Many people believe that the case against Sacco and Vanzetti was pitifully weak and that the two men died for their unpopular beliefs rather than for the crime of murder. On the other hand, there are those who firmly believe that Sacco and Vanzetti were guilty and that the uproar over the case was an unwarranted, Communist led attack on the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and therefore, the American way of life.

This latter viewpoint is ably presented in "Sacco-Vanzetti—The Murder and the Myth," by Robert H. Montgomery, a Massachusetts attorney. The thesis of the book is that the "myth" of the defendants' innocence and unfair treatment was solely the creation of left wing radicals. Mr. Montgomery examines the evidence and declares that this "myth" is "the greatest lie of them all." Persons who criticized the convictions were lumped in the same category with "picketers," "do-gooders," and "dynamiters." The book displays all the defects of violent partisanship and suffers badly by comparison with objective studies of the case which characterizes it as a tragic miscarriage of justice.

This latter conclusion is strongly reinforced by "The Untried Case," by Herbert B. Ehrmann. This book, first published in 1933, has previously been out of print. It is the personal account of the young defense attorney who gathered the evidence which corroborated the Madieros confession. Mr. Ehrmann's fascinating story presents a case against the Morelli gang which appears to be far more complete and impressive than the evidence produced against Sacco and Vanzetti. The effect of the book is to produce strong doubts about the guilt of the two anarchists.

The results of Ehrmann's investigation were discounted by the trial judge, the Governor and by the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, largely on the basis of Madieros' bad character. The mass of independent corroborative evidence was virtually ignored, and Sacco and Vanzetti died. It is a case which should have been tried. The book is strongly recommended to anyone interested in the drama of Sacco and Vanzetti.

Three grants of federal funds totaling $662,351 have been allocated to the David B. Lichtenstein Foundation here for hospital construction, it was announced at Jefferson City yesterday.

The foundation is to use the money to build three units for the new Missouri Baptist Hospital in St. Louis county, at U. S. Highway 40 and Ballas road. A $3,000,000 fund-raising campaign for that purpose is nearing completion.

The grants are $357,351 for a 60-bed psychiatric unit, $180,000 for a 46-bed chronic unit, and $125,000 for rehabilitation facilities.

PIANIST IVAN DAVIS SYMPHONY SOLOIST

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

The St. Louis Symphony Society introduced another gifted young American pianist to its public yesterday afternoon in the person of Ivan Davis. The concert took place in the Khorassan room of the Chase Hotel and the program, devoted to the works of Johannes Brahms, consisted of four chorale-preludes, the C Minor Symphony and the D Minor Piano Concerto. Edouard Van Remoortel conducted.

Fortunately for all parties concerned, including the audience, the piano, and the strings had been elevated from the placement of last week. In consequence the orchestra was more cohesive and the piano sound was considerably improved, though it was still far from ideal.

Davis's treatment of the first movement successfully encompassed its lyrical and heroic aspects and the close relationship of one to the other. He had the tone quality, the power and the control to make the aggressive transitions from the meditative to the declamatory; and in the sombre, reflective somewhat Chopinesque slow movement his concentration enabled him to preserve a sustained line against the unfavorable acoustic conditions. The orchestra gave him good support.

Conductor Van Remoortel and the orchestra also gave a satisfactory reading of the C Minor Symphony. The dryness of the sound worked its greatest hardship in the slow movement by limiting the rhapsodic magic of the soaring string passages.

In the introduction to the final movement Mr. Van Remoortel added a personal touch by pausing between the horn calls and the softly ennunciated trombone and bassoon chorale. The tempo of the allergro non troppo was a little too fast for a truly majestic statement of its memorable theme and prevented the animated section, which was played at the same tempo, from offering a maximum contrast.

These remarks, I need hardly add, are matters of personal taste. The finale had its usual strong and rousing effect.

The four chorales, in arrangement by Virgil Thomson, had a characteristic Brahmsian sadness and nobility.

The program will be presented again tonight in Kiel Auditorium Opera House.

NATIONAL CHURCH COUNCIL ASSEMBLY

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch

The National Council of Churches will hold its triennial General Assembly at San Francisco, Calif., tomorrow through Friday. The council, which represents nearly 40,000,000 members of 33 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, will also be celebrating its tenth anniversary.

A large St. Louis delegation will be led by the Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, who has been president of the National Council for three years, and Mrs. Dahlberg. His successor for the three-year term will be elected Thursday. The Rev. Dr. Dahlberg has been pastor of Delmar Baptist Church, Washington and Skinker boulevards, for the past 10 years.

The Rev. Dr. Dahlberg will deliver a sermon on the assembly theme, "Jesus Christ, Living Lord of All Life," at the opening public session tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. He will also address the council's Division of Christian Education, Monday afternoon.

Billy Graham to Speak.

United Church Men, a general department of the National Council, was holding its assembly today and tomorrow. Evangelist Billy Graham will speak at the men's assembly tomorrow at 3 p.m. J. Clinton Hawkins of St. Louis, past president of United Church Men, will preside at an evening session today.

Two national lay leaders from St. Louis flew to San Francisco Thursday to attend pre-assembly meetings of United Church Men. They are the Rev. Dr. J. Kenneth Kohler, executive secretary of the Churchmen's Brotherhood of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, and William E. Peterson, executive secretary of the Laymen's Fellowship of Congregational Christian Churches.

Their organizations will merge in the new United Church of Christ, which was formed by a union of their two denominations.

St. Louis Delegates.

Mrs. Allen Hackett, wife of the pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Church, will attend the General Assembly as a member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, Congregational Christian Churches.

The Rev. Dr. Purd E. Deitz, executive secretary of the Board of National Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, is a member of the executive committee of the National Council's Division of Home Missions.

Other officers of that denomination who will attend the San Francisco meeting include the Rev. Henry J. Damm, the Rev. Shirley E. Greene, August Burchardt, Oscar H. Schliebe and the Rev. Hartland H. Helmich, who is vice chairman of the Commission on Higher Education of the National Council.

The Christian Board of Publication (Disciples of Christ) will be represented by three officers; the Rev. Dr. Wilbur H. Cramblet, president; the Rev. Marvin E. Smith, vice president, and the Rev. Dr. Darrell K. Wolfe, vice president and director of Bethany Press.

Delmar Baptist Members.

Four members of Delmar Baptist Church also are going to the General Assembly, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. McCarthy and the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth I. Brown.

Speakers at the General Assembly will include United States District Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, Bishop James A. Pike of the Protestant Episcopal Church diocese of California; the Rt. Rev. Lesslie Newbigin, Bishop of the Church of South India and general secretary of the International Missionary Council; Brooks Hays, board member of the Tennessee Valley Authority, former Congressman from Little Rock, Ark., and a former president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and the Rev. Dr. Truman B. Douglass, Board of Home Missions, United Church of Christ, a former minister of Pilgrim Congregational Church, St. Louis.

Church Trains Workers.

Assemblies of God churches throughout the nation will observe January as Workers Training month. Some 60,000 Sunday school teachers and officers are expected to enroll in study courses.

BAPTIST MISSIONS SEEK $8,700,000

Southern Baptist churches have set a goal of $8,700,000 for a special missionary offering to be taken this month. The offering is taken each year and is named in honor of Miss Lottie Moon, a Baptist missionary who died on Christmas eve after serving in China for 40 years.

Last year, the Lottie Moon Christmas offering totaled $7,706,847.29. This was part of a grand total of $77,753,190 which Southern Baptists gave in 1959 for missions and benevolences. The Southern Baptist Convention supports 1454 missionaries in 44 countries.

The Lottie Moon offering was begun in 1888 when an appeal was made by handwritten letters to woman's missionary societies of 1500 Baptist churches. The first offering was $3,315.26. Since 1888, the total offering has been $60,971,544.19, with 75 per cent of that amount given in the past 10 years.

Southwest Baptist Church, 6401 Scanlan avenue, will observe Lottie Moon Sunday tomorrow. Mrs. Wilfred Tyler, wife of the president and professor of Bible at Blue Mountain College, Blue Mountain, Miss., will speak at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. Mrs. Tyler is a former corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention. She has visited many of the countries where her denomination has missions.

The Rev. J. Edwin Hewlett, pastor of Southwest Church, served for seven years as the Missouri representative on his denomination's Foreign Mission Board. He was succeeded last year by the Rev. Dr. Sterling L. Price, pastor of Third Baptist Church.

THE REV. ROY SCHAFFER APPOINTED ARCHDEACON

The Rev. Roy J. Schaffer of Sharon, Pa., former St. Louisan, has been appointed archdeacon of the Episcopal Church Diocese of Erie, Pa., effective Jan. 1. He has been assistant rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Sharon, for four years. His new headquarters will be at Erie.

The Rev. Mr. Schaffer, who was born in St. Louis, was secretary to the managing editor of the Post-Dispatch for 14 years before resigning in 1951 to prepare for the ministry. He studied at Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, and was ordained in 1954. Upon his ordination, he was named rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, St. Charles, where he had served first as lay reader, then as administrator of the parish. He led a rebuilding program in the old parish that had been without a rector for 26 years.

Biggest Budget Set.

The Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Richmond Va., has adopted the largest budget in its history—$12,399,123.66. It is $1,000,000 more than last year's budget.

Sauldsberry's Clutch Plays Help Hawks to Overtime Victory

Pettit Hits 44 Against N.Y. Knicks

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3 — Woody Sauldsberry is the man of the hour for the Hawks today as they take on the Philadelphia Warriors.

The Hawks blew a 10-point lead in the last quarter and failed to get off a shot in the last 19 seconds of regulation time against the Knickerbockers at New York last night, but they managed to win in overtime, 139-133, and thereby snapped a two-game losing spell.

And Sauldsberry turned out to be the deciding factor with his control of the boards in the closing stages of that game—Sauldsberry and, of course, Bob Pettit.

"The way Woody has been playing," Coach Paul Seymour said, "I was thinking of starting him. He's done a wonderful job in the things that don't show up in the box score—defense, rebounding, boxing out, helping out. He hasn't been scoring much, but he certainly has been valuable."

Knicks Catch Up.

Last night offered a good example. The Knicks, making a furious drive on hustle rather than finesse, finally caught up at 112-112, and moved a point ahead. With 35 seconds left, it was 123-123 when Clyde Lovellette took a hook shot that missed. Woody grabbed the rebound and put it in the basket—providing the margin that protected against Al Ferrari's foul on Richie Guerin 12 seconds later. Guerin sank two out of three and sent the game into overtime.

Then Woody really broke loose. With the Hawks leading, 130-128, midway through the period, he got four taps at a rebound on one play, and knocked the fourth one in for the important four-point cushion. And when the Knicks still had a chance, trailing by three with 40 seconds left, Sauldsberry sank another rebound after Pettit had missed a free throw.

"All I know," said Seymour, "is that I put him on Kenny Sears and Sears disappeared from the ball game. I put him on Willie Naulls, who had 36 points, and that was the last I heard of Naulls."

Pettit Stars, too.

Pettit scored 44 points with 18 baskets in 25 tries, most of the corner jump shots down the stretch. He had 17 rebounds, too, and three assists.

"When the chips are down," Seymour told him, "you just keep pumping those, Bobby. I don't want to see anything better than that."

Seymour will make one lineup change tonight. He plans to start rookie Fred LaCour in back court against Tom Gola, both because it's a favorable matchup in size and because he feels he has to give LaCour a chance to play sometime.

Robinson Tries For Fullmer's Title Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 (AP)—Gene Fullmer places his middleweight title on the line tonight and Sugar Ray Robinson, who has worn the crown five times, tries for it again. Fullmer is the favorite.

This will be the third and "rubber" meeting between Robinson, of New York, at 39 still a threat, and Fullmer, the 29-year-old brawler from West Jordan, Utah. They go into the ring at the new Sports Arena for 15 rounds or less, and many experts think it will be for less.

The match will be nationally televised over the ABC network (Channel 2) starting at 9 o'clock.

Fullmer holds the National Boxing Association's version of the world championship. He is recognized almost everywhere except New York and Massachusetts, which recognizes Robinson.

Buchholz Loses Final To MacKay

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 3 (AP)—Barry MacKay of Dayton, O., defeated Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis in an unprecedented all-American final for the victorian tennis championship today, 8-6, 5-7, 8-6, 6-3. It was the fifth straight time this year that 25-year-old MacKay has beaten 24-year-old Buchholz.

Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola upset Australia's Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson, 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, in the doubles title match. The defeat of Fraser and Emerson, rated the best doubles team in amateur tennis, astonished the Australians. And, the victory gave the Italians a tremendous psychological lift for the Davis Cup interzone final against the Americans next week in Perth.

Most of the singles match was played in cold light rain. Buchholz was edgy and lost his temper several times. On a bad shot he would stop and yell, "Nuts, nuts, nuts." At other times he slammed the ball against the grand stand and muttered admonitions to himself which could be heard by fans.

Two Cards To Be Off Injury List

By Robert Morrison

Ken Gray, offensive guard, and Frank Mestnik, rookie fullback, are both expected to come off the doubtful list and see considerable action for the football Cardinals against the Philadelphia Eagles tomorrow at Busch Stadium.

Gray's determination to play against the Eagles in spite of a shoulder that may need surgery after the season was particularly encouraging to Card Coach Frank Ivy.

The coach pointed out that the Cards have two players who are carrying on despite painful injuries—Gray and center Don Gillis, regular center who has kept going for several weeks with an ankle injury.

In better shape generally than they were a week ago, the Cards have hopes of upsetting the Eagles and delaying Philadelphia in its effort to clinch the eastern division title in the National Football League.

The Eagles are rated five-point favorites to gain their ninth consecutive victory following a season-opening defeat by the Cleveland Browns. The Cards, with a 5-4-1 record, have been 4-1-1 in their last six games.

Past performances indicate this meeting may develop some sharp scoring thrusts in the second half. The Cards, for instance, have outscored foes by 138-86 in second-half action during the season.

But the Eagles, under the rallying leadership of Norm Van Brocklin, have a similar figure for that phase, 140-90, and are even more impressive for final periods, 106-50.

Cardinal management has announced that the advance sale will leave, as usual, some 10,000 tickets still available for day-of-the-game sale. A pre-game feature will be a rugby exhibition between the Ramblers club and the St. Louis University rugby team.

Collinsville Sails Over Dupo, 71-32

George Doggett is only one of 12,900 Collinsville residents who figure the Collinsville High School basketball team is going to have a good season.

Doggett's position is rather unusual because he does his figuring literally and figuratively. His hobby is collecting data on Collinsville teams and he has more than 1000 box scores dating back to 1906 in his collection.

Looking up from one of his little black books, Doggett announced the 71-32 Collinsville Home triumph over Dupo last night produced the largest opening game victory point spread in the history of this hot-bed of prep basketball.

Dupo hustled and bustled and kept within striking distance of the Kahoks the first 14 minutes. In the final two minutes of the second quarter Collinsville broke loose, then continued the rout in the second half.

The Kahoks' superior height advantage was too much for the fighting Dupo five. Six-foot-six Bogie Redmon was top scorer with 29 points.

Granite City made its opener a 51-41 triumph over Cahokia. Edwardsville displayed the scoring punch it had under wraps against Centralia with an 83-68 victory over Highland. Wood River marched past Bethalto, 74-58, and Alton coasted past C.B.C. of Quincy, 63-54.

Western Military Academy of Alton ended a five-year opening-game jinx with a 67-43 victory over Venice.

Yanks Make Most Of Baseball News

The proposed expansion of the American League to 10 teams, including Los Angeles, next season was still the big topic today among baseball men gathering in St. Louis for next week's major league meetings.

But other fuel for the hot stove league involved the New York Yankees.

Frank Lane, the Cleveland general manager who never has made a deal with the Yanks, was trying to get either Whitey Ford or Bob Turley for the Indians.

And Ralph Houk, new manager of the Yanks, revealed plans to shift fire-balling Ryne Duren from the bullpen to a starting pitcher role. Houk also said he hopes to abandon Casey Stengel's platoon system.

The Yankees undoubtedly would insist that pitcher Jim Perry be included in any deal for Ford or Turley.

Lane said that three clubs including the Cardinals have inquired about center fielder Jim Piersall.

The way for the American League to move into Los Angeles and open the 1961 season with 10 teams was reported being cleared today.

Earlier this week Commissioner Ford Frick and League Presidents Joe Cronin and Warren Giles worked on a plan they feel has a good chance of being approved by the club owners. The plan would amend the rule which requires a major league desiring to move into a city already occupied by a big league club, to acquire consent of all 16 club owners.

It was the refusal of Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, to permit the American League to open shop in Los Angeles that blocked the junior circuit's 10-team expansion program for 1961 and resulted in a proposal for two nine-team leagues with an interlocking schedule next year.

The National League will vote on the nine-team proposal Monday. O'Malley, who favors the plan, reportedly has succeeded in lining up two proponents of the revolutionary idea but he needs two more for a majority. It doesn't seem likely he will get those.

Chicagoan King Leads Pin Tourney

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 — Harry Smith, who had fond dreams of adding the World's Invitational title to his All-Star crown of last January, probably will remember Dec. 2 in the Chicago Coliseum. His two-year scoring record was smashed by six bowlers of the 128 trying at 15 spots in the finals along with defending champion Don Carter.

Smith, who in 1958 shot 1326 for a first-day record, yesterday rolled a dismal 1161 which left him in a tie for ninety-fourth place.

Bettering Smith's two-year-old record was Chicago's Johnny King, who fired a final game of 261 to finish with 1367; this gave King a lead of 17 pins over second-place Clyde Hobbs, Cleveland, 1350. Joe Joseph, Detroit, was third with 1333, and St. Louis stars Billy Welu and Dick Weber tied for fifth with 1329.

In the women's competition, Laverne Carter and Flossie Argent of St. Louis finished in a tie for fortieth place with 723 totals for four games.

Ritenour Wins in Opener

By Bob Ruhl

The fortunes of Ritenour High's basketball team became something of a joke last year as its defeats rose to 20 in a row. But the Huskies may get the last laugh this season.

Playing its first game under new coach Don Maxey, Ritenour put together a 71-55 victory over Jennings in the opener for both teams last night. Tom Lynn, a fine football player, led the Huskies in scoring with 24 points.

Clayton and University City, two of the area's top teams last season, battled on near even terms with Clayton coming out on top, 53-50. The Greyhounds were paced by two familiar faces, Charles Glazer with 17 points and Dick Lowenstein with 14.

Brentwood Over Bombers.

Brentwood, getting good overall scoring, trailed John Burroughs by a point at the half, but the Eagles steadied and went on to beat the Bombers, 50-41. McBride took a defeat at the hands of Chaminade, 50-45.

St. Mary's turned in a good effort to beat Belleville Cathedral handily, 62-56. Larry Ward broke Maryland Heights' individual scoring record with 36 points and the team broke the school scoring mark with a 94-40 triumph over O'Fallon, Mo.

A surprising St. Thomas Aquinas quintet warmed up for its battle with Hillsboro tonight in the Hillsboro tourney final by stopping Country Day, 61-30. Ladue got off to a running start by beating Bayless, 75-67. Ladue's Gerad Plengemeier got 29 points.

Normandy Tops Crusaders.

Al Keller's basket with thirty seconds left—he later added a free throw — helped Lutheran South to 46-43 victory over Mehlville. Duchesne got revenge for an earlier tournament loss to Laboure by beating the Lions, 65-61. Normandy, getting 13 points in the final quarter to Lutheran Central's two, outlasted the Crusaders, 36-27.

Mike Harvey poured in 25 points and collected 12 rebounds in Ferguson's 51-43 victory over Hazelwood. Pattonville, with high - scoring Leonard Stulce graduated, was no match for Affton and the Pirates went down, 58-50. Stulce's sidekick last season, Dave Markovich, collected 22 points.

Herculaneum edged Hancock, 54-52, and DuBourg over-powered Assumption of East St. Louis, 74-42.

Leadwood and Bonne Terre together scored 71 points in the fourth period as Bonne Terre showed unexpected strength in a 102-79 victory.

Bob Kummings fired in a basket as the final buzzer sounded to give Berkeley a 67-66 victory over Eureka.

25 Springers Left In National Trial

The defending champion and the third-place dog of last year were missing today as the national championship trial for English springer spaniels moved into its second day at the Busch Wildlife Area.

The 1959 champ, Brackenbank Tangle, was scratched. His owner, E. W. Winderlich of Joliet, Ill., said the dog had suffered a severe leg injury and wouldn't be able to perform up to par.

The third-place dog of last year lost out in the first of two land series runs yesterday. He was Char-ber-der, owned by R. E. French and handled by P. L. Scales, both of Gridley, Kan. The runner-up of last year, Ripples of Gunnerhaven, was among 25 survivors from a starting field of 41. Ripples is owned by Mrs. John C. Hutcheson of Greenwich, Conn., and handled by Luke Medlin of Lagrangeville, N.Y.

Bills Face Cal Aggies Tonight

Basketball, which started some 45 years ago at St. Louis University, presents another season-opening for a Billiken team tonight at 8:30 at Kiel Auditorium with the California Aggies from Davis providing the opposition.

The Aggies lost their opener, 118-52, Thursday night at Memphis State.

St. Louis Coach John Bennington, now in his third season here, is going to start his more experienced players against the Aggies, Gordon Hartweger and Tom Kieffer at the forwards flanking 6-10 center Bob Nordmann, with Glen Mankowski and George Latinovich at the guards.

That combination of Billikens, except for Nordmann, presents nothing unusual in the way of height—a problem St. Louis may encounter often this season. But for this game St. Louis does have a height edge as well as one of experience.

There are four freshmen playing for the Aggies, including a very competent guard, John Dean. He performed well against the Memphis State pressure, Billiken scout Vince Vento reported. Another freshman, 6-2 Henry Pfrehm, was the Aggies, best scorer with 13 points in that lop-sided game.

The preliminary tonight will be an intra-squad freshman game.

Harris Five Romps Over Central, 79-55

Wesleyan Outshoots Concordia

By Harold Flachsbart

With basketball queen candidates as part of the cheer-leading team and others rooting in the stands, Harris Teachers College sailed to its third victory of the young roundball campaign last night, routing Central College of Fayette, Mo., 79-55.

Meanwhile, Concordia Seminary suffered a second straight home loss, a 57-51 cliff-hanger to Nebraska Wesleyan, and the Preachers are 2-2 for the campaign. Concordia tonight will be host to Lincoln University of Jefferson City, which whipped Wesleyan, 71-61, Thursday night. Harris is to face Greenville College at Greenville, Ill.

Billy Key's sharp-hitting Harris squad had four players in double figures in whizzing past a Central team that Coach Floyd Gabel knew was "tense in its first start." The Eagles stayed with the fast-breaking Harris squad in the first half, which ended 32-26 in the Teachers' favor, but Central never was a factor in the 47-point Harris second half.

Two freshmen from the Public High ranks were outstanding in Harris's fast-breaking offense. Soldan's Preston Vanderford, a springy, clever ball-handler and shooter at 6-3, was high scorer with 17 points. Lamar Thames, a 6-2, former Beaumont star, led the second-half drive and once hit three straight buckets to shoot the home team, at O'Fallon High gym, to a 52-31 lead. Thames wound up with 12 points, sinking six of seven field goal attempts in limited action. Bob Leonard tallied 14 for the winners and Paul Boedeker had 15.

At Concordia, the Preachers continued the poor shooting that started in the recent Concordia-Harris tournament. Coach Pete Pederson's team had only a 7-for-19 free-throw mark against Nebraska Wesleyan, a .360 average. From the field, the Preachers hit 22 out of 77 for 31 per cent, against the Nebraskans' 19 out of 46.

Tom Faszholz, the game's high scorer with 21, helped the Preachers to a 24-24 tie in the first half. But Concordia never was even after that. It was 32-25 at the half. Wesleyan showed a good running team, led by Ron Gillham in scoring with 15.

BYRD DEFIES PARTY LIBERALS TO PURGE HIM

By EDWARD F. WOODS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia defied Democratic liberals today to carry out their plan to try to purge him when the Senate organizes for the new session in January.

Senators Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania and Paul H. Douglas of Illinois are leaders of a movement to bar from the party's policy-making caucus and from committee chairmanships Senators who refused to support the Kennedy - Johnson ticket.

Byrd, now in his sixth term, is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He refused to indorse the Kennedy-Johnson ticket. He is opposed also to the party's platform declaration in favor of a medical care for the aged plan tied to the social security system and the use of tax money for federal investment in public works, housing and the like. These are matters which, in part at least, would be referred to his committee for consideration in the form of legislation.

Eastland Also Involved.

Also involved in the liberals' plan with respect to chairmanships is Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, gave the Kennedy-Johnson nominal support but is opposed unalterably to the platform's declarations on civil rights.

Byrd's challenge to the liberals was included in a letter he sent today to Clark, saying that he wished to restate his attitude toward the Democratic platform "so you can prepare your case against me with full knowledge of what my position will be." Taken in its entirety, Byrd said, he regarded the platform as being "radical, or leading to socialism and as being fiscally irresponsible."

Byrd said he owes his allegiance as a Senator to Virginia and that he recognizes "no control over my votes in the Senate from any outside influence, including the Democratic convention and the caucus of my Democratic colleagues in the Senate."

Ticking off some of his objections to the Democratic platform, Byrd said he was opposed to political manipulation of the Federal Reserve System to influence interest rates; repeal of right-to-work laws; forced integration in all public schools by 1963; establishment of a fair employment practices committee and medical service and hospitalization under the Social Security laws.

Other Objections.

Byrd also found fault with the Democratic platform recommendations relating to slum clearance, aid to economically distressed areas, expansion of foreign economic aid, federal aid for school construction and federal scholarships.

The Virginian said he had tried to estimate the cost of the platform recommendations but found it impossible. He said, however, the projected program would increase the federal budget by "billions of dollars."

"It is not necessary for me to elaborate on the weakness of the dollar, which is the result of excessive federal expenditures both at home and abroad," Byrd said. "We have been attempting to be the world's policeman, world's banker and, at the same time, the world's Santa Claus. We are now beginning to see the dangerous effect of these global dispensations."

Clark is on a vacation cruise and was not available for comment.

RECOVERS $2000 IN GOODS ONCE SEIZED AS STOLEN

Jack W. Fallen, 2300 block of Hood avenue, Overland, carted off a load of merchandise valued at about $2000 from St. Louis county police headquarters yesterday.

The merchandise, including 71 cases of instant coffee, five outboard motors, a move projector, record player, tree saw, battery charger and other items, had been confiscated by police last June following Fallen's arrest on suspicion of receiving stolen property.

The charge against Fallen, who formerly was a Clayton policeman, was dropped after Circuit Judge Virgil A. Poelker at Clayton sustained a defense motion to suppress the evidence on the ground it had been taken without a search warrant. Fallen appeared at police headquarters yesterday with a writ of replevin authorizing him to recover the property.

GORDON TIFFANY RESIGNS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Gordon M. Tiffany, staff director of the Civil Rights Commission, has resigned to return to private life, the White House said yesterday.

Tiffany, a former New Hampshire attorney general, said in a letter to President Eisenhower that the commission "is fully and completely staffed in accordance with civil service standards and every assurance of continued progress can be given to my successor."

Lumumba

he was premier, was an "arbitrary and illegal act against the lawful Congolese government committed by an illegal, dictatorial regime."

Concern Voiced.

Hammarskjold sent two messages to Congo President Joseph Kasavubu asking him to see that Lumumba gets a fair trial. One message was sent after a committee from Asian-African nations had expressed concern for Lumumba's safety.

Last Sunday Lumumba slipped past guards assigned by Mobutu to keep watch on him. U. N. officials said then that Lumumba could not expect U. N. protection outside Leopoldville.

United Nations officials yesterday denied their forces attempted to interfere when Lumumba and six of his associates were arrested in the area of Port Francqui, 500 airline miles east of Leopoldville.

Mobutu had feared that Lumumba would reach his old political stronghold at Stanleyville in Oriental province and start a comeback.

Lumumba's brother, Louis, and his former secretary, Gabriel Salumu, are helping run the provincial government there.

Stanleyville Roundup.

United Nations officials were concerned by a roundup of all 1000 white people in Stanleyville that began Sunday, ostensibly for the purpose of checking identity cards. Many were reported slapped, kicked and terrorized.

Brig. S. J. A. Otu of Ghana, in charge of the U.N. force there, was still trying to arrange the release of 13 Belgians.

Meanwhile, U.N. Moroccan troops released hundreds of captured rebel tribesmen in the southern Katanga town of Luena, after screening and disarming them.

The U.N. command in Elisabethville reported that about 50 of the rebel leaders were still held.

The rebels were captured after an abortive dawn raid on Luena yesterday in which six town Africans were killed. The Moroccans encircled the attacking tribesmen when they entered the European section and cut off their retreat.

Large bands of tribesmen remained around the town, which was said to be "still potentially under siege."

East Side job and assigned as a research professor.

Meanwhile, See yesterday reemphasized his statement of last Tuesday that the transfer had been initiated by him.

"I wish to state with all possible force that my request for reassignment was made of my own volition," See said in the new statement. "Those good friends and loyal supporters of mine who have interpreted this action otherwise do so with an appreciated but mistaken conception of the situation.

"I have accepted a position which I believe will be of inestimable value to the future of the southwestern campus as well as the entire university.

"To make a decision of a change from a position which one has enjoyed and found rewarding is not without some regrets. What I have found necessary to evaluate are the relative advantages personally, professionally and to the future development of this great educational venture in the area.

"To consider my decision less than irrevocable and to exhibit a divisiveness on the southwestern campus with regard to it, will not only detract from the importance and possibility of success and contribution in my requested assignment, but will also be harmful to and retard development of the project I have so earnestly striven for during the past five years.

"I would suggest that we are at a point in time when it is imperative for all of us vitally interested in the success of this project to stand together in support of the university, its board of trustees and its president.

"This statement is not being issued through the facilities of the university information service since I do not wish the motivation for its release to be misinterpreted. It is my fervent hope that this statement will dispose of the entire matter of controversy."

LEFTIST TROOPS ATTACK LAOS REBEL FORCES

VIENTIANE (Delayed and censored) Dec. 2 (AP)—The radio of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao announced tonight that its forces have gone on the offensive against right-wing rebel Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's troops on the Namkadinh river and around Laos's royal capital of Luang Prabang.

The Namkadinh, 100 miles east of Vientiane, commands one of the main approaches to the city. Phoumi's forces made a major effort to breach it Tuesday in an apparent advance on the administrative capital of Vientiane, seat of the neutralist government.

Luang Prabang, residence of the King of Laos, has been in Phoumi's hands for three weeks.

The Pathet Lao said its forces hit Phoumi units south of Pakhadin on the mouth of the Namkadinh river. It reported sinking four river boats and killing 20 soldiers.

Western military experts here estimated Phoumi's forces on the Namkadinh front at five to nine companies backed by artillery, armored cars and small caliber rocket launchers.

The Communist broadcast said a force of Pathet Lao troops had encircled Luang Prabang and was attacking rebel defenders on the outskirts.

Government troops also were closing in on the royal capital. The fighting around Luang Prabang does not appear to have developed into a major offensive so far.

The Pathet Lao radio said its forces were also attacking Phoumi's units in northeast Xiengkhouang province.

The battle on the Namkadin, however, shaped up as the crucial test of strength between Phoumi's right-wing forces on one side and the neutralist government on the other. Pathet Lao holds the balance of power.

Reports of casualties were steadily rising, with four dead and nine wounded flown back to Vientiane and more than 20 others still awaiting airlifts back.

DEER CAPTURED IN NORMANDY IS BUSCH FARM BUCK

A handsome brown deer that wandered into Normandy turned out to be a fugitive from August A. Busch Jr.'s Belleau Farms at St. Peters, it was learned yesterday.

Clarence Orf, who is in charge of Belleau Farms, identified the animal at the Animal Protective Association of Missouri, 1705 South Hanley road, Brentwood. Orf had missed the buck, a two-year-old English deer, several days ago.

It was trapped Thursday by policemen and a student at Logan Basic Chiropractic College on the college campus at 7701 Florissant road, Normandy. Recognizing that the deer was not native to Missouri, protective association officials began checking around, and they got in touch with Orf.

GENERAL ELECTRIC SERVICE SHOP STRIKE IS SETTLED

A strike by 49 employes at the General Electric Company service shop, 1115 East road, was settled yesterday. The shop will resume operations Monday after a two-month shutdown.

Members of Local 818 of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers walked out on Oct. 25, one day after the settlement of a 21-day national strike against General Electric. The local dispute was over the method of recalling workers to their jobs and the terms of the local supplement to the national contract.

R. G. Rettig, manager of the service shop, said employes will be called back to work in stages, based on seniority and job classifications, in the same manner as the firm planned in October. James W. Click, international vice president of the union, said a call-back schedule was agreed upon and terms of the local supplement which expired Oct. 1 were extended 30 days for further negotiations. The service shop repairs heavy equipment and employs a total of about 65 persons.

Colder Weather Monday

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Warmer weather prevailed in the St. Louis area today, and the Weather Bureau said mild temperatures will continue here tomorrow. The bureau said possible showers tomorrow are likely to continue Monday with colder weather expected.

Temperatures over Missouri and Illinois began to moderate yesterday as southerly winds carried warmer air into the two-state area. Cool weather continued in the eastern part of the country.

The mercury dropped to the 20s early today from the central Gulf states northeastward along the Appalachians into New England. In the Atlantic coastal states from Georgia to Virginia and in the southern Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Readings in the 20s also were reported from the northern border of the Great Lakes region to the northern Rockies.

Skies were mostly cloudy today from the western Plains states to the Pacific coast except for an area in the southern Plateau, where fair weather prevailed. Another area of cloudiness extended into Texas and spread through the northern Great Lakes region.

Warmer weather is expected from the eastern Plains states to the Atlantic coast, with a warming trend in the western Gulf Coast states.

Heating degree days in the St. Louis area yesterday, 30; the month, 70; the season, 841.

Puzzled Traveler

Caroline Kennedy, living in a world of change and confusion since Nov. 8, peers from automobile window, attempting to keep up with the excitement at the airport at West Palm Beach, Fla., last night. Cause of the excitement is her father, President-elect Kennedy, who urges her to keep cool. They are in Florida for a weekend in which Kennedy hopes to relax from the round of conferences he has been holding in Washington while lining up officials for his administration.

Back to the Farm

Deer which strayed far from familiar surroundings accepts a friendly greeting from Clarence Orf on being identified yesterday as a fugitive from August A. Busch Jr.'s Belleau Farms at St. Peters. Orf, farm superintendent, made the identification at the Animal Protective Association, 1705 South Hanley road, Brentwood, where the animal was taken Thursday following its capture in Normandy. Orf believes the 250-pound English deer wandered from the farm in search of its birthplace at Grant's Farm. —By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

School Picket Line

Placard with message "God Demands Segregation" is carried by woman picketing Frantz elementary school in New Orleans yesterday. Crowd of white mothers, simmering on the edge of violence, has been attempting to enforce a total white boycott of the school which was integrated Nov. 14. —Associated Press Wirephoto.

Trimming a Skyscraper Tree

Trimming of a festive tree becomes a task of noble and frightening proportions when carried on at the sixth-story level. Helping with the task is Associated Press reporter Francis Stilley, beside the [illegible] in New York's Rockefeller Center. Terrifying, he called the lofty chore. Less frightened workmen will finish the job in time for lighting [illegible]day.

Driving Auto Wheels

By Ramon Coffman

I SPOKE OF small explosions that take place in the cylinders of an automobile engine, hundreds of them in a minute. The exploding mixture of air and gasoline vapor exerts force on the pistons. The pistons in the cylinders are connected with other moving parts.

A rotary motion is given to a bar or shaft which, in the usual car, extends back to a system of gears at the center of the rear axle. Cogs in the gears are moved by the whirling shaft, and motion is given to the rear wheels.

There are many "fine points" which I might add to this account, but I have tried to give the main story—from the fuel to the movement of the wheels. The story is different with cars in which power is applied only to the front wheels, and with cars that have four-wheel drive.

The "differential" is a study in itself. Provision must be made so the wheels move at different speeds when the driver turns the car. This has been worked out with extreme care.

The gasoline automobile, as we know it today, is the production of thousands of men in the fields of science, invention and engineering. The United States and Germany have played leading parts in the story, but important work also has been performed in Great Britain, France, Italy and other lands.
